NEW YORK, 27.

A White Sulphur Springs correspondent says in his interview with Lee and others, Gen. Rosecrans proposed that the general officers of the Confederacy, representing as they do the valor and chivalry of the South unite and lay before the Northern people in a tangeable form, that cannot be disputed, the true state of feelings as he had found it everywhere in his travels South. This proposition has been accepted. Baron Chas. Von Ledever, the new Austrian Minister to this country arrived in this city yesterday from Liver-

BOSTON, 27. The celestial are taking rest to-day remaining quietly within their hotel. The round of feasting to which they have been subjected since their arrival compells them to do so. The merchants of this city have tendered Mr. Burlingame and his companions a dinner at Parkers.
